

King's College London Summer School with the University of Heidelberg and Melplex, Monday 18 July – Friday 22 July 2016

Monday 18 July 2016

09:30-10:00 – Registration

10:00-10:30 – “Welcome & Introduction”

11:00-12:00 – “How to study human material in 2016: from the knife to the algorithm”.

12:00-13:00 – Lunch

13:00-18:00 – Thesis Advisory Committee Meeting & Clinical Research Facility Tours

Tuesday 19 July 2016

09:00-12:00 - Thesis Advisory Committee Meeting & Melplex Discussion Group

12:00-13:00 – Lunch

13:00-16:00 – “Bench To Bedside” (Students will be presented with a series of unmet clinical needs that they will then discuss and consider how the clinical needs could be met before presenting their conclusions)

Wednesday 20 July 2016

09:00-11:00 – “Thesis” (Students will hear presentations from members of St. John’s Institute of Dermatology regarding their research)

11:00-11:30 – Break

11:30-12:15 – “Thesis” continued

12:15-13:15- Lunch

13:15-18:00 – RTG Visit Student Supervisor Laboratories (Off site)

Thursday 21 July 2016

09:00-10:30 – “Scientific Writing” (lectures on presentation, writing, reviewing and data-handling skills)

10:30-11:00 – Break

11:00-12:00 – “Scientific Writing” continued

12:00-13:00 – Lunch

13:00-15:00 – “Funding Bodies: What are they looking for in grants and fellowships?”

Friday 22 July 2016

09:00-12:00 – “Student Presentations” (7 minutes for presentations; 3 minutes questions & answers).

Each student will present:

- Outline of their thesis
- What are the key experimental goals?
- How is this contextualised within Skin Biology?
- What is the significance with Biomedical Science more generally?

12:00-13:00 – Lunch

13:00-15:00 – Evaluation and Farewell Gathering